SEPTEMBER 2008

SPARKS' REMARKS

Commissioner
Ron Sparks

I was able to attend the Florida Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services' annual "Farm to Fuel Summit"™ held in Orlando, Florida from July 30th through August 1st. The conference brought together hundreds of industry leaders in agriculture, petroleum, academia, financial institutions and the government who want to be leaders in the production of renewable energy.

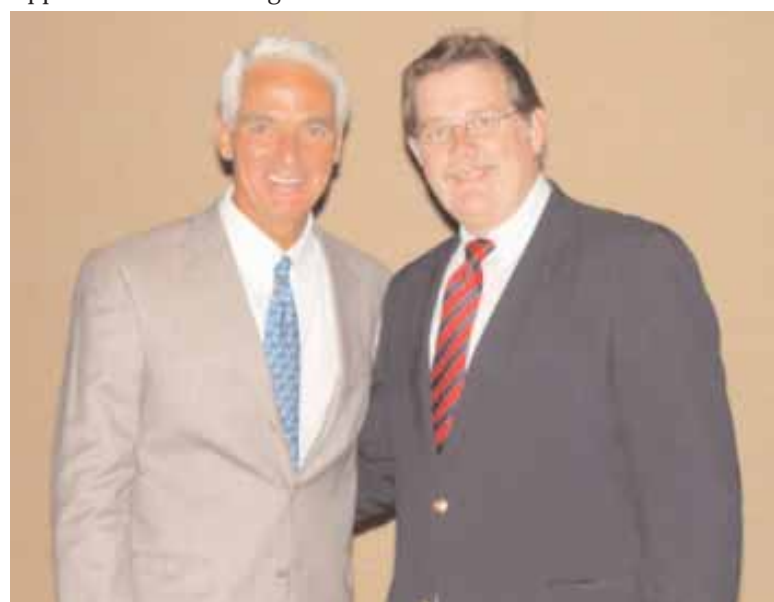

At the Summit, I attended exciting seminars and saw many presentations. I learned more about the possibilities for agricultural sources and uses for bio-fuels. While there, I was also able to share ideas about the future of biofuels with Governor Crist and Florida Commissioner of Agriculture & Consumer Services Charles Bronson.

Some of the many interesting topics discussed include: opportunities to turn agricultural products like sweet sorghum, sugarcane and peanuts into bio-ethanol; the U.S. Energy Independence and Security Act of 2007; transporting ethanol and corn used for producing ethanol; and the international perspective on ethanol. The keynote speech of the conference was given by U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Ed Schafer.

This year's Summit also "went green" by being held at the Rosen Shingle Creek which in 2007 was designated as a Florida Green Lodge. In addition, greenhouse gas emissions associated with the summit were offset by renewable energy certificates retired by Sterling Planet, Inc.

BUY ALABAMA'S BEST

The Alabama Food Manufacturers and Producers Association, in partnership with the Alabama Department of Agriculture & Industries and the Alabama Grocers Association are proud to announce that "October is the Month of Alabama Food." A kickoff press conference will be held in Montgomery on September 29th to jump start the promotion. Starting in the month of October, you will see the "Buy Alabama's Best" logo on grocery store shelves across the state identifying those products that are produced in the state.

"On a daily basis we strive to inform all Alabamians of the quality foods which are made right here in our home state. The food that Alabama manufacturers provide to our consumers is some of the safest food in the world, along with the best tasting," according to Commissioner of Agriculture and Industries Ron Sparks.

Alabama food product sales have over a $2 billion impact on the state's economy and Alabama Food Manufacturers, Grocers and Food Service entities, including restaurants, employ approximately 250,000 people. When consumers buy from local producers, they are fueling the profits right back into the state's economy. Not only do Alabama food manufacturers sell products in Alabama and employ Alabamians, but they also purchase vast amounts of raw farm products to make their goods, paper and boxes to package their goods, all benefitting the Alabama farmer.

On top of supporting so many Alabama entities, the "Buy Alabama's Best" campaign also benefits our state's most precious commodity, our children. During the month of October, a portion of the sales from all Alabama products in participating grocery stores goes to benefit the Janie Sims Foundation for Curing Childhood Cancer. The foundation raises money which goes toward research to cure childhood cancer, as well as to aid families at the Children's Hospital in Birmingham, Alabama. The Alabama Food Manufacturers and Producers Association sees its partnership with the Janie Sims Foundation for Curing Childhood Cancer, as an opportunity to benefit Alabama children through the sale of Alabama food products. The group, in partnership with Alabama grocers, is proud to have raised over $60,000 for curing childhood cancer in 2007.

"The 'Buy Alabama's Best' campaign is successful largely due to the fact that teamwork and the love of all that is

PRODUCT SPOTLIGHT

If you are looking for a great snack that tastes good and is good for you, grab a pack of Jerky Joe's Original Beef Jerky and experience what jerky is supposed to taste like! "Jerky Joe" makes his famous beef jerky in Cullman where you can stop by and pick some up at 1410 2nd Avenue NW.

Jerky Joe's not only offers their tasty original beef jerky, but they offer a variety of flavors for those who like it hot, to those who prefer it not! Joe's beef jerky is available in original, mild, hot and extra hot! Jerky Joe's Beef Jerky has a fresh taste and is not greasy or over processed like some jerky. Since Jerky Joe's is made right here in Alabama, you can guarantee it is the freshest, best tasting jerky around and they are members of the "Buy Alabama's Best" campaign! Jerky Joe's jerky is vacuum sealed in order to contain its original freshness and is a healthy snack option. Joe's beef jerky is a great source of protein, containing 48 grams in each serving! This is a convenient way for those who struggle to get the recommended amount of protein in their daily diets to work towards consuming that amount in just a single snack! The packaging is conveniently resealable and even includes a toothpick!

For information on Jerky Joe's products, call 256/734-1585. For more information on other Alabama food products and the "Buy Alabama's Best" campaign, please log onto www.agi.alabama.gov.

International Guests Visit The Department

Recently, guests from Uganda visited with Commissioner Sparks about the Department's work concerning food safety, product quality testing, and agricultural assistance with farmers. Pictured from left to right, Mr. Julius Ecuru, Assistant Executive Secretary, Uganda National Council for Science and Technology, Commissioner Sparks and Mr. Kahiriita Francis Ngabirano, Principal Assistant Secretary, Ministry of Finance, Planning and Economic Development.

DEPARTMENT ANNOUNCEMENT
www.agi.alabama.gov

In recent years, the Department of Agriculture & Industries has seen a lot of improvements in our ability to serve the public. One of the most important advancements has been our ability to communicate with farmers and consumers throughout the state in a timely manner. We rely on newspaper reporters, radio news and television reporters to share new information, but we have also started to use other resources in our efforts.

Our website has become a vast source of information about agriculture in Alabama. If you take the time to peruse our site, you will find that almost every possible ag topic is covered. And, if you want to know more about a subject that isn't posted online, just let us know. Your question and our answer may be featured on the website and the Farmers & Consumers Bulletin.

Commissioner Ron Sparks and the Department of Agriculture & Industries are now offering an E-news Sign-Up Service. Farmers and consumers interested in receiving breaking news and updates by e-mail from the department related to Alabama agriculture can sign-up on the department's website. Please log onto www.agi.alabama.gov and look for the "E-News Sign-Up" icon. Once logged on, be prepared to provide your name, e-mail address, county, zip and the areas of agriculture you are interested in. We hope this service will improve our ability to keep the farmers and consumers of Alabama up-to-date on issues affecting their daily lives.

Alabama is its main concern. It is a joy to work with the good people who are the owners and producers of food companies in our state, as well as those individuals who own and run the retail stores who carry Alabama products. As Commissioner of Agriculture, I want to thank all of those who help make this program a success including the manufacturers themselves, the grocers, and especially the Alabama consumer who makes an effort to buy food from local manufacturers," stated Sparks.

In the month of October, several newspapers across the state will include a coupon flyer similar to the one shown on the right that includes discounts on Alabama manufactured food products. Four-time Heavyweight Champion of the World and Alabama native, Evander Holyfield, joined Commissioner Sparks in endorsing this campaign to help promote Alabama products.

VETERINARIAN HONORED

Last month, Commissioner Ron Sparks attended an event to honor Dr. George S. Killian who was celebrating his 60th year of veterinary practice in Fort Payne, Alabama.
